

Use "Gets-It," Lift Corn Right Off

Shrives, Loosens—and It's Gone!

"Just like taking the lid off—that's how easy you can lift a corn off your foot after it has been treated with the wonderful discovery, 'Gets-It'! It lifts the whole corn off and you'll find nothing so magic, simple and easy as 'Gets-It'! You folks who

"O-O-I!"
End Corn
and
Stop Pain
Quickly
With
"Gets-It!"

have wrapped your toes in bandages to look like bundles, who have used salves that turned your toes raw and sore, and used plasters that would shift from their place and never "get" the corn, and who have dug and picked at your corns with knives and scalpers and perhaps made them bleed—just quit these old and painful ways and try "Gets-It" just once. You put 2 or 3 drops on, and it dries at once. There's nothing to stick. You can put your shoe and stocking right on again. The pain is all gone. Then the corn dies a painless, shriveling death. It loosens from your toe, and off it comes. "Gets-It" is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world today. There's none other as good.

"Gets-It" is sold by druggists everywhere. 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Bennington and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by W. L. Gokay, B. A. Quinlan.

FOUR DIE IN FIRE

Blaze Costs the Lives of Three Men and a Woman

Manchester, N. H., May 13.—Four persons lost their lives and more than a score barely escaped in their night clothes in a fire which destroyed the Weston and Pitts building on Elm street early today. The loss was estimated $200,000.

The dead are Miss Jennie Moffit, 60 years of age, whose body was found in her room on the top floor of the building; William Hickey, 50 years, a mill operative, Omar Godbout, also a mill operative, and John Shaw, 50 years, a furniture dealer, who died of heart failure during the fire.

The blaze, which is believed to have originated in the basement of the building, spread so rapidly that a general alarm was sounded, and assistance was called from surrounding towns. The damage was confined to the Weston and Pitts block.

The lower floor of the building was occupied by stores and the two upper floors by apartments.

A National Dixie

Mrs. Edward C. Orvis of Manchester, Vermont, read our remarks in the issue of March 14 to the effect that the only popular patriotic song of American origin that everybody applauds and enjoys is the song of a Lost Cause, namely, "Dixie," and that if everybody voted as the heart dictated, "Dixie" would be our National air. That suggested to Mrs. Orvis the writing of National words to this American tune. The tune, we may add, was composed by Dan Emmett, an Ohio man, according to Elson's "History of American Music." It is said to have been written as a song and dance for Dan Bryant's Negro minstrel show, and was sung by his troupe at a theatre on Broadway, New York, a couple of months before the Civil War.

One reader of The Outlook, Mr. Edward A. Belcher, in asking us to look up the genesis of the song, refers to this origin of "Dixie" as a "walk-around" for Bryant's minstrels (citing Nelson's Encyclopedia as his authority), and he adds:

In "The Reader's Handbook" Brewer says: Dixie was a slaveholder of Manhattan Island, who removed his slaves to the Southern States, where they had to work harder and fare worse, so that they were always sighing for their old home which they called "Dixie's Land"—a sort of Delectable Country or land of Beulah.

Want you trail it to its home—time and all? And, as touching the time, years ago—when a very high-stepping and conceited lad—I was told by some musical body that the tune was an old Latin chant covered with the lichen of centuries. Find out and tell. The musical people may know.

The song in its origin seems to be Northern, and in its subject is Southern—a National combination. In her letter accompanying the verses Mrs. Orvis says:

"I am not a poet (when you have read the inclosure you may think it was not necessary for me to tell you this), but I sat down and wrote some words which can be sung to the tune of 'Dixie,' and if you think them worthy of a place in The Outlook, here they are. God bless them!"

"U. S. A."
(Tune of Dixie.)

There's a Land we love with a deep devotion—
Pilgrim-sought, across the ocean,
All the way "U. S. A."

Hear us say, "Thine for aye."
Every spot historic with its song or story

Fills our hearts with loyal glory—
Here we stay, "U. S. A."

Hear us say, "Thine for aye."
'Tis a Land of milk and honey,
And free to all!

From every race they've sought this place
To live and die for freedom—
O Lord most high, keep this the home of freedom!

There's a Flag we love with a holy madness—
Love in sorrow as in gladness—
Every day, "U. S. A."

Hear us say, "Thine for aye."
Red, white, and blue are the hues
Heaven lends it—
Every patriot's arm defends it—
In the fray, "U. S. A."

Hear us say, "Thine for aye."
'Tis a Flag in which we glory,
Oh, Stars and Stripes!

It stands for Right—for it we'll fight
If aught our country threatens,
O Lord most high, keep this the home of freedom!

Mary Lowe Woods Orvis.

Dainty Feet.

Two old farmers were seated in the parlor telling of their experiences in life.

"Talkin' o' long feet, I seen some 'other day that both together made a yard," said the younger of the two.

"Humph," replied the other. "I once saw a man whose feet were so long that he had to back up to the door to knock at it."—American Boy.
